Charlottesville.—During the electrical storm which visited this section recently, lightning struck a building on the dairy farm of John R. Danville.—D. S. Scruggs, 40, Pittsylvania farmer, was instantly killed by Southern train No. 135 at Ward Springs, one mile north of Gretna. Half a dozen section men saw the fatality. Luray.—Pitching headlong into seven feet of water in a well, Daniel Miller, 3-year-old son of M. S. The father was near the house, but when he and neighbors arrived and recovered the body life was extinct.

Harrisonburg.—The Mount Clinton community, in West Rockingham, suffered its second tragic shock in as many days when it was found that Gasner Messick, aged 58, well-to-do farmer, had hanged himself in his barn. Lesson for June 7

PETER'S BROADENING VISION

LESSON TEXT—Acts 10:1-11:18.
GOLDEN TEXT—Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons.—Acts 10:34.
PRIMARY TOPIC—A Strange Sight Which Peter Saw.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Why Peter Went to Cæsarea.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Peter's Broadening Vision.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Gospel Intended for All Men.

Through the conversion of Cornelius the "middle wall of partition" was broken down (Eph. 2:14).

I. Cornelius (10:1-2).
1. His Official Position (v. 1).
He was a Roman officer over a company of 100 soldiers.
2. His Character (v. 2).
(1) A devout, pious man.
(2) He was a praying man.
(3) He was charitable.
(4) He was respected by his family. The Lord chose Cornelius for the translation of the gospel to the Gentiles because of his character and position.

II. The Supernatural Preparation for the Transition of the Gospel to the Gentiles (10:3-33).
In order to bring this about:
1. Two Visions Were Given.
(1) The vision of Cornelius (v. 3-8).
While engaged in prayer, an angel of God announced that his prayer and alms had come before God as a memorial, and instructed him to send to Joppa for Peter who would tell him what to do.
(2) The vision of Peter (v. 9-16).
He saw a certain vessel containing clean and unclean animals let down from heaven. This vessel let down from heaven and taken back indicated that both Jews and Gentiles were accepted on high.
2. A Messenger Sent From Cornelius (vv. 17-22).
Peter was greatly perplexed over what he had seen, but not for long. The messengers from Cornelius made inquiry at the gate for him. The Spirit informed Peter of the matter, and bade him go, nothing doubting. Thus we see that both had been prepared for each other by God.
3. The Meeting of Cornelius and Peter (vv. 23-33).
(1) Peter took six witnesses along (v. 23).
He had the good judgment to know that on a matter of so great importance, he must have witnesses.
(2) Cornelius waiting for Peter (v. 24).
He called together his kinsmen and friends.
(3) Cornelius about to worship Peter (v. 25-26).
Peter rebuked his act and protested that he was but a man along side of Cornelius.
(4) The reciprocal explanation (vv. 27-33).
Peter explained to him how God had taken from him his Jewish prejudice, and asked that Cornelius state the purpose of his having sent for him. Cornelius explained how God had appeared unto him and instructed him to send for Peter.

III. Peter's Sermon (vv. 34-43).
1. The Introduction (vv. 34-35).
He showed that God is no respecter of persons, but that in every nation those who fear God and work righteousness are accepted of Him.
2. His Discourse (vv. 36-43).
In the discourse he touches briefly upon the mission of Jesus showing that by means of His baptism and anointing with the Holy Spirit, He was empowered for His work as mediator. He then exhibited the work of Christ:
(1) In His life (vv. 36-38).
He went about doing good, even casting out demons as a proof that God was with Him (v. 38).
(2) In His death (v. 39).
The Just suffered for the unjust that He might bring us to God, being put to death in the flesh (I Pet. 3:18).
(3) In His resurrection (vv. 40-41).
God raised Him on the third day showing openly that Christ was His Son (Rom. 1:4), and that His sacrificial work was satisfactory (Rom. 4:25).

IV. The Holy Spirit Poured Out (vv. 44-48).
As the gospel was entering upon its widest embrace, the Spirit came in new power.

V. Peter Vindicates His Ministry to the Gentiles (11:1-18).
Being called to account for visiting and eating with Gentiles, Peter rehearsed the whole story in such a way that his narrative took the form of logical argument, and showed how that God had set His seal upon the work by the miraculous gift of the Spirit.

HANNA'S GREEN SEAL PAINTS

The Sign of Good Paint

The Habit of keeping a house nicely painted really means more than simply making it look attractive. It means that it is being protected against deterioration and decay and this house will continue to look well long after neighboring homes begin to appear "run down."

If your house should need painting, Now is the right time to paint it, and is the right paint. To delay the matter will not mean genuine economy.

HIXBURG

Plant beds and people here show signs of hot weather.

Rev. Mr. Redding preached the best sermon here Sunday morning that the writer had heard for a long time. His subject was "The Need of Rest and of a Physician", and directing man to the one that did say to the weary heart "Come unto me all ye that labor and I will give you rest." And in his discourse he said a silversmith might be able to find the trouble with a watch and perhaps prepare it but that none could compare it so completely as the original manufacturer. And in closing said God had made man and had also made ample provision for his rest of both body and soul of man. The key note of the message was the words spoken by the Master and Lord "Take my yoke and learn of me", showing that there is real rest even in duty.

VERA

The hot, dry weather is playing havoc with the gardens, flowers and vegetation in general. The farmers are watering their plant beds to save tobacco plants. A few of the more energetic farmers have planted their crop of tobacco; we have'nt heard how much they will have to replant though.

Mrs. George Robertson went to Roanoke last week to see her daughter, Mae, who is in the hospital, having her eyes treated. She was so unfortunate as to have a piece of machine needle fly in it and injure it to the extent that it was feared she would never see again. We are glad to report that she is now seeing quite well after having been blind for three months. with a total recovery. While in Roanoke Mrs. Robertson visited her brother, David Vest, whom she had not seen for twenty-four years. She also visited another brother, Will Vest, at Salem.

Mrs. Walker Carnefix, who was taken to Lynchburg last week to be operated on, was reported to be resting well last Sunday.

Mrs. Nancy Kyle does not seem to improve. She is very ill with liver trouble. The sympathy of the community is extended the families of these two estimble ladies, who are sisters.

Mrs. William Beale, and son Clarence, "Buster" Megginson and son Ben, motored to Lynchburg last week to see the above sick ladies.

John Beale and nephew, Albert Jr., motored to Lynchburg for treatment of his arm which has been giving him trouble for almost a year, we are glad to learn that he is improving. Mr. Beale's parents accompanied him home and will visit friends here for a few days.

The saw mill owned by C. E. Lewis and located on Mr. Harvey's place near Rosebower was visited by fire last week with a loss estimated at $700.00 or more with no insurance. Mr. Lewis has our sympathy.

Facts About the Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association

Number 4—REDRYING

Constant attempts by opponents of cooperative marketing to dissatisfy members of the Tobacco Association with its redrying policies have brought to light the fact that the Association has saved several hundred thousand dollars by cutting the cost of redrying, according to investigations by State officials from North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia, who state in their report:

"The committee has gone into this criticism very thoroughly and finds the following:

"During the first year of its operation the officers of the Association succeeded in getting the redrying of its tobacco done at a basic price of $1.75 per hundred pounds, but when it came time to make contracts for the redrying of the second year's crop it appeared as if the principal redriers would not undertake the work for less than $2.00 per hundred pounds. Some of them wanted as much as $2.25. As the 1923 crop was a very large one, the Association was faced with the problem of redrying at least two-thirds of the crop, and this increased price meant an additional cost of several hundred thousand dollars.

"From its investigation, the committee believes that the Association saved its members at least 25 cents per hundred pounds in redrying costs on the 1923 crop, and perhaps 50 cents per hundred in redrying costs on a part of the 1924 crop. The Association got a large part of its tobacco redried at a cost of $1.75 per hundred in 1923, due to the fact that redriers came to this basic price. During 1924 the Edmondson Tobacco Company further reduced its charge for redrying to $1.50 per hundred pounds."
